And then the Senate adjourned.

[CONCURRENCE.—We omitted, in our report on yesterday, of the debate upon the bill to appropriate money to the Western Lunatic Asylum to State that Mr. BRISTOW, from Christian, advocated the bill with zeal and ability. We take great pleasure in making this correction, and we can say to the constituents of Mr. BRISTOW that he did his whole duty to them, and the Asylum on this occasion; as he always does his duty faithfully on all matters concerning their interests, as well as those affecting the interests of the whole Commonwealth.—REPORTER.]

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Wednesday, Jan. 27, 1864.

Prayer by the Rev. DANIEL STEVENSON, of the M. E. church.

The reading of the journal of yesterday was dispensed with.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. CHANDLER offered the following resolutions, which were ordered to be printed.

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

1. That this General Assembly re-affirms and re-adopts, as a fair expression of its political views on the subjects embraced therein, the series of resolutions on national affairs, adopted by the Legislature of 1863, and approved March 24 of that year.

2. That it is unnecessary at this juncture for Kentucky to reassert her loyalty to the Government of the United States, her acts, in her Legislative councils, and the prowess of her gallant soldiers in nearly every battle-field in the Southwest have attested it, and that Kentucky, in the line of patriotic duty, and devotion to the unity of the States, knew no backward step, but will continue hereafter as heretofore, to it need be, make her sacrifices for the cause in which she has embarked—the cause of liberty, equality, and justice to all the States in the Union and not out of it, in obedience to, and not in defiance of the National Constitution.

3. That Kentucky stands unalterably opposed to the enlistment of negroes in the Federal armies, anywhere and particularly in Kentucky, believing that it will disgrace the service, increase the difficulties of final adjustment, and prolong the war, and with these views, while she will not resist unconstitutional acts by unconstitutional acts we deem that the honor and interest of the State demands that she will resist such enlistments within her courts by all constitutional means at her command.

Mr. BEDFORD offered the following resolution, which was referred:

Whereas, It has been the time-honored custom for the Commonwealth to erect suitable monuments over her departed Governors. Therefore,

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

That the Cemetery Company be and they are hereby authorized to contract for and have erected over the graves of the Hon. John J. Crittenden, and the Hon. Robert P. Letcher, a suitable monument, and they be authorized to draw upon the Treasury for a sufficient amount of money to pay for the same.

Mr. SPURR offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

That on Wednesday next at 11 o'clock the General Assembly will proceed to the election of two members of the Board of Managers of the Eastern Lunatic Asylum in place of M. C. Johnson and D. A. Layne, whose terms of service are about to expire.

Mr. ALF. ALLEN offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Mr. ALF. ALLEN offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Mr. McLOED offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Said amendment was then adopted—yeas 66; nays 25.

Mr. KINNEY moved to strike out 10, of the 6th sec., and insert 15: rejected.

AGREABLE COUPLE.—A fashionable couple in New York, married but not mated, as the story goes, quarrelled a few mornings since, and the irate wife, by advice of her parents, has sued for a divorce. The cause is only noteworthy from the ridiculous cause of the quarrel.

One morning, it seems, the husband washed himself, as usual, in the bowl used by both; but the lady, for some reason, refused to use it that morning, and rang the bell for another. It was brought, when the now indignant husband lunged violently to the floor, breaking it in pieces. The wife thereupon called him hard names, and he locked the bedroom door and insisted that she should use the bowl.

THE COMMONWEALTH. FRANKFORT.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 1864.

The Governor's Mansion will be open for the reception of visitors every Monday evening during the session of the Legislature, from 8 to 11 o'clock.

The committee of Propositions and Grievances will meet at 3 o'clock every day during the balance of the session in the Hall of the House of Representatives. Members of said committee will please take notice, and attend promptly.

JOHN S. McFARLAND, CH.

A Card.

The undersigned, in behalf of himself and his associates (Mr. MIDDLETON and Gen. FINNELL,) return our grateful acknowledgments to those members of the General Assembly who voted for us, for the confidence thus manifested. We cheerfully acquiesce in the choice of the majority, and we are gratified that they have selected a gentleman for the office for whom we have so high a personal esteem as Geo. D. Prentice. It is no dishonor to be beaten for the office of Public Printer by one who stands so high as he does in the estimation of the people of Kentucky, and is so widely known throughout the Union as an Editor.

A. G. HODGES.

We are requested by Col. Bradford, the President, to give notice that there will be a meeting of the directors of the State Agricultural Society, at their rooms, over the Executive Office, this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Don't Pay.

As an exchange pertinently remarks, whether they win or lose a battle, the rebels are sure to suffer most. So true is this fact, that a distinguished foreigner, who has watched the course of their efforts to overturn the Government, recently remarked, that "the boasted victories of the rebels never gained them an inch of ground; whilst the defeats of the Union arms never prevented the Federal forces from narrowing the circle in which the rebellion had to revolve."

There is another fact, which is equally true: every man now lost to the rebels and traitors can not be replaced; whilst the natural increase of the population in the loyal States, and the immigration to our shores, far more than counterbalances the Union losses in the field. Either Ohio, Pennsylvania, or New York, is in a condition to spare more men for the war, than all the rebel States combined. And in all their raids the rebels lose largely. In recent Richmond papers is an account of Fitz Lee's late advance on the Federal lines near Harper's Ferry, Virginia, in which it is stated that his corps numbered 1,100 men, when he started; but before it returned it was reduced to 400! And when the account was written, the corps had not reached the camping ground from which it started upon the raid! These facts show that neither rebel victories nor raids pay.

The effect of the news of the battle of Chattanooga on the Rebel Cotton Loan, in England, was "terrible," as described by a London correspondent, who says that the week before it stood nominally at 48 to 50, but went down instantly to 30 to 35. It has rallied a little by forced sales, but no one, except a madman or a downright fool now thinks of purchasing it at any price.

Governor Bramlette on Traffickers in Human Flesh.

We subjoin two letters recently written by our excellent Executive in reference to "negro recruiting" in this State—one to a man styling himself "Edward Cahill, Captain," the other to Brig. Gen. Boyle. The tone of the letters will commend them favorably to every Kentuckian; and the Governor's remarks about "soul-divers," alias, "negro-traders," will especially touch a sympathetic cord in the breast of all good citizens. It is as true, as the Governor states, that class of persons have only been endured as moral scavengers.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE DEPT.,
FRANKFORT, Dec. 14th, 1863.

Capt. Edward Cahill, Recruiting Colored Troops.

SIR:—Yours of the 10th inst., informing me that you had been ordered to Kentucky to recruit "free colored men" for the Army of the United States; and asking my consent for so doing, is before me. You do not inform me by what authority you come to Kentucky to recruit "free colored men." I know of no act of Congress requiring such service, nor have I seen any order from the War Department directing it. On the contrary, I am well assured that in deference to our peculiar position, and to avoid unnecessary aggravating the troubles of the loyal men of Kentucky, the authorities at Washington, do not contemplate recruiting "colored men," in Kentucky. We are ready to fill our quota from the "free," white citizens of Kentucky. We will unhesitatingly comply with the requisition for men to defend our Government. We claim the right to furnish from citizens whose duty it is to make that defense, and who are ready to comply with the requirements of duty. The duty of defense devolves upon those who enjoy the benefits of our Government. From such we will fill the call upon us. We presume that WHITE MEN who owe the duties of allegiance to the Government will be accepted for its defense. We will furnish them. If, therefore, you came to recruit "colored men," for the benefit of Kentucky, we decline your services. If you came to recruit for the benefit of another State, we deny your right to do so, and forbid it. No State has the right under any law or order to enter Kentucky to recruit either white or "colored men." We do not intermeddle with any State that chooses to recruit "colored men" within its own limits. But no State that is not willing to meet the measure of duty by contributing its quota from its own population shall be permitted to shelter from duty behind the free negro population of Kentucky.

We shall meet the call upon us without enlisting colored men, and your State must meet its call from its own white or "colored" men as may best suit its people, and not assume to recruit either white or black in Kentucky. Yours, etc.,

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,
Governor of Kentucky.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, Jan. 13th, 1864.

Brigadier General J. T. Boyle, Commanding District of Kentucky, Louisville, Ky.

DEAR SIR:—The letter referred to by you to me from "H. Barnes, Colonel 1st Michigan Colored Regiment," requesting your aid to "Captain W. A. McClellan" in his recruiting mission to Kentucky for the "1st Michigan Colored Regiment," is before me. Furnish the Colonel and his recruiting Capt. with a copy of my reply to a similar request made by "Capt. Edward Cahill" recruiting colored troops, and also with a copy of this letter.

No such recruiting will be tolerated here. Summary justice will be inflicted upon any who attempt such unlawful purpose.

"Negro traders" have ever been held in disrepute in the slave States, and only tolerated, as we tolerate the vulture tribe, because they rid us of the vicious and worthless slave population.

But under pretence of loyalty, a class of "traffickers in human flesh," have started up far more contemptible for their hypocritical pretensions to loyalty, and more despicable, because of the meanness of their motives, men, who, to make profit to themselves, engaged in enticing slaves and free negroes to enlist, that they may "sell them," as substitutes, obtaining the large bounties offered in States not willing to furnish of their own population the call made upon their loyalty for volunteers by our Government.

Such "traffickers in human flesh," will endanger their own liberties if they are caught within this State.

Your action is in accordance with the laws of the State, the purposes as we are assured of the Federal authorities, and my approving judgment. Respectfully,

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,
Governor of Kentucky.

The following paragraph, which we copy from the Danville Tribune, we most heartily endorse. Mr. George made a most excellent editor, besides which he is a practical printer of the very best kind, having learned his trade in this establishment. He is, and always has been, a firm and undeviating friend of the Union, and has suffered peculiarly on that account, and we hope and trust that he will be retained in the place he now so ably and faithfully fills, or that he may be promoted to a more lucrative one.

JAMES G. GEORGE.—Mr. George is a deaf mute, educated at the Institution in this place, and recently Editor of the Richmond Messenger, one of the most spirited and loyal papers published in Kentucky. His office and business were broken up by the invasion of Kirby Smith and Bragg, and he was compelled to become a refugee in Louisville. Gen. Boyle gave him a clerkship, and he is now clerk in the office of Captain Jones, Provost Marshal General of Kentucky. He is one of the best clerks in the State, and a most loyal and intelligent man. We trust, in the changes which are making at Louisville, he will not lose his present office, and if he does, it will be only to obtain a better one elsewhere. We can confidently recommend him as an intelligent, faithful, and competent man, who will fall short in no respect of any man who can hear and talk, however valuable.

It is worthy of notice that two of the best clerks now in the military service in Kentucky are deaf mutes.—Mr. George and Robt. H. King, Assistant Chief Clerk in the Quartermaster's Department at Camp Nelson, both educated in the Institution for Deaf Mutes in Danville.—Kentucky Tribune.

IMPEDENCE!—It seems that the rebels do not abandon the fiction of authority over Kentucky, after all. On the 7th inst., a communication from "the Secretary of the Provisional Government of the State of Kentucky," was read in the rebel Senate announcing the reelection of Hon. W. E. Simms as Senator for six years. We believe that they do not pretend to have any representation from Maryland, although they legislate for Marylanders residing in the insurgent States as for a class owing allegiance, though distinct from the rest of the population.

Some of the prominent rebels in Texas are Yankees. Willard Richardson, of the Galveston News, is a native of Massachusetts; Cushing, of the Houston Telegraph, is a native of Vermont; and Gen. E. B. Nichols, the financial agent of the rebel convention, is a native of New York. Scores of rebel contractors and office holders, civil and military such as Giddings, Howard, Sayles, and the like, first saw the light north of Mason and Dixon's line. In a few months they will be claiming to be Yankees again.

Wooden weddings are taking the place of tin weddings. The Utica Herald states that one came off there recently, at which the gifts were water pails, cradles, clothes pins, boot jacks, wash tubs and rolling pins, potato mashers and rat traps, beef steaks and match safes, sugar boxes and wash boards, wooden trumpets and jumping jacks, wooden shoes and cord wood, &c.

A REBEL BOBADI.—R. O. Davis, of the Rebel Quartermaster General's office in Richmond, in a communication published in the Richmond Whig of January 1 (not April 1) describes, in so far as he dare do without fully exposing the secret of his invention, what he calls his "Artisavia," or "Bird of Art," which is to revolutionize the present system of warfare. It is an aerial tool, and will cost about $500 in "greenbacks," or $10,000 in secess paper money, to construct a single sample. The Southern Bobadi was invented it says, very much after the manner of its prototype:

Now let us suppose that one thousand of these Birds of Art were stationed at the distance of five miles from a hostile camp, fortification or armada of war vessels; that each "Artisavia" was supplied with a fifty-pound explosive shell, and being started singly, or two or three abreast, going out and dropping these destructive missiles from a point or elevation beyond the reach of the enemy's guns, then returning to the place of departure and reloading, and thus continuing the movement at the rate of 100 miles per hour. It will be seen that within the period of twelve hours the hundred and fifty thousand death-dealing bombs could be thus rained down upon the foe, a force that no defensive art on land, however solid, could withstand even for a single day, while exposed armies and ships would be almost instantly destroyed, without the least chance for escape.

John Morgan and Gen. Neal Dow.

The Richmond Enquirer of a recent date gives a description of a visit made by John Morgan to the Libby Prison, and of an interview with Gen. Dow, as follows:

Gen. Morgan, on arriving up stairs where the prisoners "most do congregate," was immediately conducted into the presence of the "author of the Main Liquor Law," the whilom Brig.-Gen. Neal Dow. An introduction took place, when Morgan observed, with one of those inimitable smiles for which he is so noted, "Gen. Dow, I am very happy to see you here; or, rather, I should say, since you are here, I am happy to see you looking so well." Dow's natural astuteness and Yankee ingenuity, came to his aid, and he quickly replied, without apparent embarrassment, "Gen. Morgan, I congratulate you on your escape; I cannot say that I am glad you did escape, but since you did, I am pleased to see you here." The conversation then became general between the two, during the progress of which Dow admitted that his views of the South, its people and their treatment of prisoners of war had undergone a material change for the better in the last few months.

HUNTING WHITE MEN WITH BLOODHOUNDS.—It has been several times stated in the army correspondence that in the Southwest the rebel officers hunt deserters and conscript with bloodhounds, just as they once did fugitive slaves. It seemed incredible that this should be true, as a general fact, and we presume it was not credited, but the fact is fully confirmed by advertisements for bloodhounds in some of the Mississippi and Alabama papers for this very purpose. A Union cavalry officer on duty in West Tennessee writes:

"I have been out with my regiment scouting for three weeks in the region lying between the Tennessee and Mississippi rivers, northeast of Memphis. For the first few days, we were after a guerrilla company, who were engaged in hunting up, or hunting down, conscripts with dogs. Brutal and horrible as it may seem, it is nevertheless strictly true, and you may depend upon it, that at this very hour, hundreds of the people of West Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama, are being hunted down with bloodhounds. I could not realize it until by the most positive evidence I found it true. We were almost within hearing of the baying of the hounds, and sent out a scouting party who came near catching some of the devils. If they had been caught, they would have received short shrift."

Proclamation by the Governor.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 4, 1864.

The frequent outrages perpetrated in various parts of the State by lawless bands of marauders, can in a large degree be traced to the active aid of rebel sympathizers in our midst, or their neglect to furnish to Military Commandants the information, in their possession, which would lead to the defeat and capture of such marauders.

Sympathizers with the rebellion who, while enjoying protection from the Government, abuse the leniency extended to them by concealing the movements of rebel guerrillas, by giving them information, affording them shelter, supplying them with provisions, and otherwise encouraging and fomenting private raids, are in criminal complicity with all the outrages perpetrated by the marauders whom they secretly countenance.

It is in the power of persons whose sympathies are with the rebellion to prevent guerrilla raids, almost invariably, by furnishing to Military Officers of the United States or State of Kentucky, the information which experience has proved them to be, as a general thing, possessed of.

I will unite, as is their duty, in putting down guerrillas, we should soon cease to be troubled with their raids. A neglect to afford aid assistance and information which may aid in defeating the designs of marauding parties, can but be construed as a culpable and active assistance to our enemies.

I, therefore, request that the various Military Commandants in the State of Kentucky will, in every instance where a loyal citizen is taken off by bands of guerrillas, immediately arrest at least five of the most prominent and active rebel sympathizers in the vicinity of such outrage for every loyal man taken by guerrillas. These sympathizers should be held as hostages for the safe and speedy return of the loyal citizens. Where there are disloyal relatives of guerrillas, they should be the chief sufferers. Let them learn that if they refuse to exert themselves actively for the assistance and protection of the loyal, they must expect to reap the just fruits of their complicity with the enemies of our State and people.

COMPOUND

CEDRON BITTERS.

The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the 19th Century.

NO MAN'S name is more intimately connected with the history of the Materia Medica of the United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in Medical discovery, than that of Dr. JOHN BULL, of Louisville, Ky. His inimitable preparation of Sarsaparilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable drug. His Compound Pectoral or Wild Cherry, has become a household word throughout the West and South, and his Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction attained a reputation as wide spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters now offered to the public. That it belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it the Indian bids defiance to the most deadly malaria, and malarial fever, the most venomous serpents. It is a belief with them that while there is breath left in the body, the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to endorse this extravagant pretension, he is, nevertheless, satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all diseases arising from exposure, either to changes of weather and climate, or to the miasmatic influences, it stands without a rival, and justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies.

It is DYSPEPSIA, and its attendant train of symptoms, it acts more like a charm than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of Materia Medica, that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be found in the 11th edition of the U. S. Dispensary, pages 1387 and 1388.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of Cedron with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper distilled Botton which is which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might furnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such things at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give the one trial, and you will never use any others.

It is not necessary to publish a long list of diseases for which the Cedron Bitters are a specific.

In all diseases of the STOMACH, BOWELS,

LIVER, OR KIDNEYS:

In all affections of the BRAIN, DEPENDING UPON DERANGEMENT OF THE STOMACH OR BOWELS;

IN GOUT, RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA.

And in FEVER AND AGUE;

it is destined to supersede all other remedies. It not only cures these diseases, but it PREVENTS them.

A wine glass full of the Bitters taken an hour before each meal, will obviate the ill effects of the most unhealthy climate, and screen the person taking it against disease under the most trying exposure.

Sold by Druggists and Grocers generally.
